

First time playing Starsector with mods? See here!

If you want your mod added to this list, refer to this.

If you are looking for mods for earlier versions of Starsector, continue reading here.

The mod index lists mods that have been added to it by request of the mod author.

It features mods that are considered release-ready by their maker. Mods are listed in alphabetical order within their category.

Mods must be compatible with the current version of Starsector to make it on this list, and they may be removed if they fall significantly behind (*current cutoff is 0.97a).

Instructions on how to install a mod can be found here.

Key: [SS version] Mod Name and Link by Author

Versions tagged in blue will run in the current release of Starsector. Orange entries are outdated but might still work if you tweak their mod_info.json - use them at your own risk! Versions in red are very unlikely to function correctly.

Standalone Utilities:

These are clients and user-made programs with a variety of functions that run on their own and can be launched outside of the game, like mod managers.

Feature overhauls:

These mods drastically change how the game looks and plays, and may be incompatible with other mods that rely on those features working like they do in vanilla.
